

Travel Grants 2019

Objectives

---

We are keen to support participation by preferably PhD students and early career scientists (<10 years post-PhD or leaving full time education)(excluding PI's) in scientific conferences and workshops. A close link between the research-related work or plans of the µbone member and the theme and the content of the scientific event is required (namely bone&cancer).

Condition

The µbone travel grants are for those PhD Students and Early Career participating actively with a poster (including the µbone logo) or orally.

The granting of the scholarship requires the presence of at least one day at the congress.

In case of several applicants, the Steering Committee will decide on granting.

Amount

Grants are available to cover domestic (up to €300), continental (up to €500) and intercontinental (up to €800) travel to scientific conferences or workshops where applicants give oral or poster presentations.

Only costs in the amount of the proportional actual arrival and departure costs according to the regulations governing travel expenses and/or the reimbursement of congress fees can be covered.

Please note that these grants are intended for travel and/or congress fees only and applicants should not apply for subsistence or accommodation expenses.

How to?

1. Contact the coordinator preferably two weeks in advance about your interest with the following information: Name and date of congress, how will you participate, expected travel and/or congress fee
2. After approval, do your booking according to your internal regulations.
3. Hand in the original receipts after your attendance with your banking details and enclose a short and signed cover letter with a statement of the project specific objective of your journey:
